ABOUT THIS REPORT

At Access Communications Co-operative (Access), everything we do is rooted in a simple belief. When communities thrive, we all do. This report shares how we live that belief daily — by reinvesting in the people, stories, and places that shape Saskatchewan. Whether through our Children's Fund, community programming, or local sponsorships, our purpose is clear: to support and uplift the communities we're privileged to serve.

The 2025 Community Impact Report — Your Stories. Our Purpose. — also includes a financial summary of the Access Communications Children's Fund for the 2024 fiscal year which is Jan. 1, 2024 — Dec. 31, 2024.

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At Access Communications, we are grateful to live, work, and grow on Treaty Four and Treaty Six lands. These territories have long been home to the Cree, Dene, Blackfoot, Saulteaux, Dakota, Lakota, Nakota, Ojibwe, and Métis Peoples, whose histories, cultures, and contributions continue to shape our province.

We acknowledge Indigenous Peoples' deep connection to this land—a connection rooted in care, respect, and stewardship over generations. As a Saskatchewan co-operative, we are committed to truth and reconciliation. We know this is a shared journey that begins with listening, learning, and moving forward in partnership.

MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT & SENIOR MANAGER OF COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT.

At Access Communications, community is at the heart of everything we do. Every year, we strive to make a difference but in 2024 we worked hard to set a new standard.

Through our three pillars of giving — the Access Communications Children’s Fund (ACCF), our community programming through AccessNow TV and a new addition through radio, and our corporate initiatives and sponsorships — we deepened our impact in ways that matter.

The Access Communications Children’s Fund reached a powerful milestone, donating almost $665,000 to 91 recipients across Saskatchewan. Since 1992, the ACCF has given more than $4.1 million to support children in need, at risk, or among our most vulnerable.

We also deepened our commitment to the communities we serve. In Weyburn, we became the Showtime Sponsor for the new Credit Union Spark Cinema, helping bring stories and culture to life. In Estevan, we secured naming rights for the pool at the Estevan Leisure Centre now known as the Access Communications Aquatic Centre, creating a lasting connection to a space where families gather and grow.

In a historic moment for Access, we welcomed CJTR 91.3 FM — Regina’s only community radio station — into our programming team. Now operating as AccessNow 91.3FM Community Radio, this expansion gives us an even stronger voice in telling local stories that matter to you.

These are just a few of the highlights. Inside this report, you’ll find so many more stories that make us proud—stories of generosity, resilience, and community spirit across Saskatchewan.

To our volunteers, bingo players, staff, members, and supporters — thank you for standing with us.

We’re proud of what we’ve achieved together and excited for all that lies ahead. With appreciation,

Carmela Haines

THE ACCESS COMMUNICATIONS CHILDREN'S FUND FROM BINGO CARDS TO BRIGHTER FUTURES.

At the heart of our co-operative beats a simple belief: every child deserves a chance. A chance to learn, laugh, be included, and be well. For more than 30 years, the Access Communications Children's Fund (ACCF) has turned that belief into action—quietly, powerfully, and with the unwavering support from the people of Saskatchewan.

Since its founding in 1992, the ACCF has donated more than $4.1 million to support children who are in need, at risk, or among our most vulnerable. In 2024 alone, thanks to the generosity of our bingo players and supporters across the province, we contributed almost $665,000 to 91 incredible community organizations.

These grants reached after-school programs, filled lunch boxes, built inclusive playgrounds, provided mental health support, and put books in little hands. Behind every dollar is a story of hope.

The Children's Fund focuses on three vital areas in supporting youth:

- Health and Wellness – Nurturing the mental and physical well-being of children of all abilities.
- Education and Literacy – Fueling futures by giving kids the tools to grow, learn, and dream.
- Social Inclusion – Ensuring every child feels seen, heard, and valued.

The ACCF is powered almost entirely by proceeds from the Access Communications Children's Fund TV Bingo—but a bingo card is more than just a game. It's a lifeline. It's a book, a meal, a warm coat. It's a message that someone cares.

Thank you to every player who picked up a card this year. You are part of something extraordinary.

As Canadian humanitarian Rick Hansen said, "The goal is to try and make the world a better place—starting with one person." For us, that person is every child whose life has been touched by your kindness.

To our volunteers, staff, board members, and supporters—thank you for believing in the power of community to change lives.

Together, we're not just giving, we're building brighter tomorrows.

“Every card played helps shape a child’s future — proving that we create a lasting impact when we act purposefully.

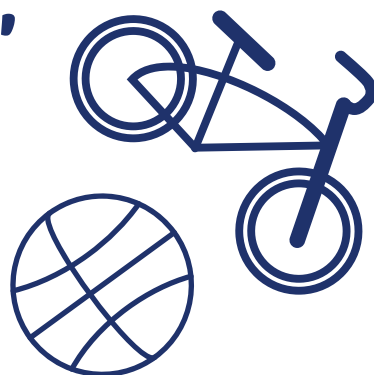

Thank you to our bingo players, donors, and volunteers for making this possible.”

THEIR STORY.

Regina Early Learning Centre

At the heart of the Regina Early Learning Centre (RELC) is a simple but powerful belief when we support children and families in their earliest years, we build stronger communities for generations to come.

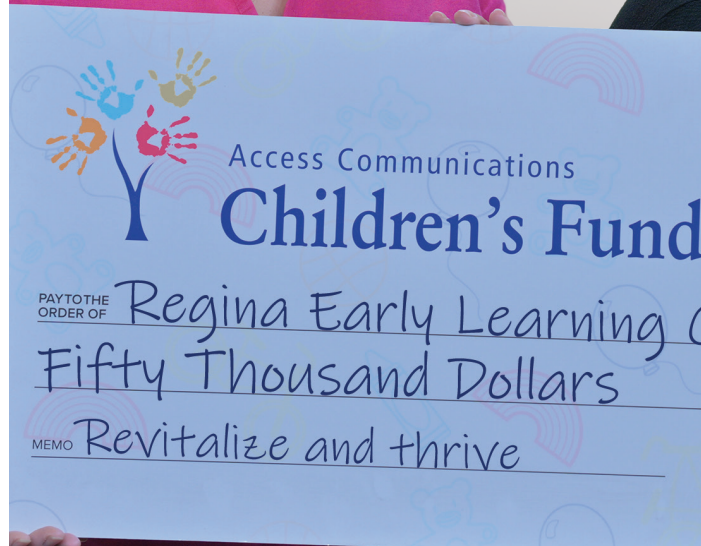

The Early Years Family Resource Centre, operated by the Saskatchewan Early Childhood Association, provides welcoming, play-based environments where children can explore, grow, and thrive — and where families can access essential parenting support and community programs.

Thanks to a $50,000 donation from the Access Communications Children's Fund, the Centre's location on Fifth Avenue is getting a vital refresh. The revitalized space will ensure that even more children and families can find a safe, engaging, and inclusive place to play, learn, and connect.

"Thanks to the donation from the Access Communications Children's Fund, we're able to continue the work we do in the community every day to support young children," said Monica Tottom, Executive Director. The Access Communications Children's Fund is helping us out with our space on Fifth Avenue, the Early Years Family Resource Centre, as we revitalize it to provide a safe space for children and families when they visit us to play, explore, and enjoy programming."

Through partnerships like this, Access is proud to help build a brighter start for every child in Saskatchewan.

OUR PURPOSE.

Recipient: Nipawin Kinsmen Club, Nipawin, SK

Project: Dolly Parton Imagination Library

“Thank you very much for providing funding to our Dolly Parton’s Imagination Library program here in Nipawin. We are extremely grateful for your support of this valuable community program. We currently have 110 children between the ages of 0-5 receiving age-appropriate quality books every month! It costs $46.20 per child to receive 12 books (1 per month for a year). Your funding of $4,982 enables us to cover the cost of purchasing the books for 107 children for one year!!! This ensures the sustainability of the program for another year.

We are a community-based non-profit organization with the goal of bringing quality literature into families’ homes. Early literacy is vital in children’s development and lays the foundation for future learning. We are proud to have the program in Nipawin and strive to sustain the program as long as possible through various fundraising events.

Thank you again for supporting Dolly Parton’s Imagination Library in Nipawin through the Access Communications Children Fund.”

- Coleen Tallon & Lisa Vavr, Nipawin Kinsmen Club

(The Dolly Parton Imagination Library is a global program providing children with books. This is the third year for the program brought to the community by the Nipawin Kinsmen Club.)

Recipient: Estevan Public Library, Estevan, SK

Project: Cultural Music Instruments for Children

“The Estevan Public Library was the recipient of a grant to enhance access to multicultural music instruments for local children. This investment enabled the library to purchase a range of instruments, including banjos, drums, guitars, and shakers, which will be integral for children’s programming and events for years to come,” said Jason Redshaw, Head Librarian. “In addition, several instruments are available for children to borrow and play at home, fostering musical exploration and creativity within the community. These resources enrich the library’s offerings and provide valuable opportunities for children to connect with diverse musical traditions. Thank you to Access for the support.”

- Jason Redshaw, Head Librarian

COMMUNITY PROGRAMMING WHERE YOUR STORY FINDS ITS VOICE.

Every community has a voice. Every story has power. And every person deserves to see and hear themselves reflected in the media that surrounds them.

That belief has always guided our community programming. Through TV and now radio, we give Saskatchewan a stage — and its people a voice.

In 2024, Access expanded community programming. We proudly welcomed CJTR 91.3 FM, Regina's only community radio station, into AccessNow operating as AccessNow 91.3FM community radio, this beloved station continues its mission of elevating local voices, artists, and causes — but now, with the strength, support, and sustainability that comes from being part of a community-owned co-operative. With CRTC approval at the end of 2024, this was more than a milestone — it was a promise to keep community radio strong, independent, and rooted in the place it calls home.

Meanwhile, AccessNow TV continues to bring Saskatchewan to life on screen — now in 110 communities and growing. With 70% of our content created by local community producers, the stories we share aren't just about the province—they're about you. Your teams. Your talent. Your traditions. We cover everything from local sports to arts and culture to city council meetings — because local matters, and so do you.

That commitment shines brightest during the moments that bring us together. In 2024, our live broadcasts of the Regina Humane Society Telethon, the Weyburn Communithon, and the United Way of Estevan Telethon helped raise more than $530,000 for local causes. These aren't just programs — they're acts of love that show what's possible when a community rallies together. AccessNow TV and AccessNow 91.3FM are more than just platforms. They are where your story finds its voice.

This is more than programming: It's purpose. It's passion. It's people.

CORPORATE INITIATIVES & SPONSORSHIP. SUPPORTING COMMUNITIES AND PEOPLE. UPLIFTING LIVES.

At Access Communications, we do more than connect you—we invest in spaces that bring people together and create real opportunities.

In 2024, we proudly became the Showtime Sponsor of the Credit Union Spark Cinema in Weyburn, helping bring film, culture, and community together under one roof. We also reached an exciting agreement with the City of Estevan to secure naming rights for the Access Communications Aquatic Centre inside the Estevan Leisure Centre — a place where families can gather, grow, and make lasting memories.

These investments join a growing network of community spaces we're proud to support, including the Access Communications Centre in North Battleford and the Access Communications Water Park inside the Gallagher Centre in Yorkton. Across Saskatchewan, these spaces represent more than buildings — they are places where community spirit lives and thrives.

Our commitment to the community doesn't end there. The 17th annual Access Communications Labour Day Show N Shine in Regina set a new fundraising record in 2024, raising $51,805 for the Regina Food Bank. With over 5,000 attendees and more than 500 classic cars and motorcycles on display, this signature event brought people together for a powerful purpose. Since its inception, the event has helped provide more than 1.1 million meals to those in need across Regina and southern Saskatchewan.

A strong future starts with investing in youth — our scholarship program continues to grow in scope and impact. Last year, we awarded $27,000 in scholarships — supporting tomorrow's leaders today. This included twenty $1,000 scholarships through the Doug Alexander Scholarship Program, honouring our former Community Relations Manager. It recognizes high school students who excel in academics and community service.

When we invest in places where people gather, celebrate, and grow — we're not just supporting facilities. We're building belonging.

The Fred Wagman Scholarship Program — named after our first CEO — provided a $2,000 Film & Video Scholarship and two $1,000 Entrance Scholarships at the University of Regina. In addition, two $1,500 scholarships were awarded at Saskatchewan Polytechnic to students enrolled in the Computer Networking Technician and Telecommunications Network Technician programs.

To meet this year's recipients, visit:

From investing in hubs to championing youth, our events reflect who we are—a co-operative powered by purpose and inspired by you.

VOLUNTEERS: THE HEART BEHIND THE HEADLINES.

At Access Communications, our volunteers are more than just supporters. Whether behind a camera, in front of a mic, or helping bring local events to life, their passion and commitment fuel everything we do.

In 2024, over 500 volunteers contributed over 9,500 hours to support AccessNow TV and Radio, plus our corporate events and sponsorships. They brought local stories to life, amplified unheard voices, and helped us stay connected to the communities we serve.

Their dedication didn't go unnoticed. We have now formally recognized volunteers in our organizational values under Engaged – Volunteers: We create meaningful opportunities for volunteers to make a positive difference in the communities we serve.

Thank you to every volunteer who shared their time, talent, and heart. You make our mission possible. You make our stories stronger. And most of all, you make us proud.

SUSTAINABILITY A GREENER TOMORROW, POWERED BY PURPOSE.

Being rooted in Saskatchewan means taking responsibility — to care for our land, protect our communities, and act today so future generations can thrive.

Sustainability at Access is a mindset, not a checklist — led by our Green Team, a passionate group of employees driving environmental action. From daily habits to big-picture programs, we work together to leave a lighter footprint.

Here's how we made an impact in 2024:

Paper & Equipment Recycling

We continue to make it easy for staff and visitors to recycle responsibly with in-office drop-off bins.

Battery & Cell Phone Collection

Through our participation in the Call2Recycle program, our retail locations serve as trusted drop-off sites — giving these items a second life.

TerraCycle Pen Recycling

Used pens from staff across the province are collected and recycled, turning simple office supplies into something meaningful.

Sweep It Program with SARCAN

From old TVs to electronics, we ensure nothing with a plug ends up in the landfill before its time.

Energy-Efficient Facilities

Motion-sensor lighting and reduced paper and power use help shrink our footprint — without compromising service.

Encouraging Paperless Billing

We encourage customers to switch to eBill, reducing waste and providing a convenient, secure way to stay connected.
